Idea

An electrical motor cycle has a disadvantage of charging a battery again & again for a shorter ronge it consumes more time to charge battery. instead of this we can use a system known as regenerative system. which means a vehical running in a constant speed can regain its battery level. please include this for electrical vehical so we can move for a longer distance.